

ELENA NUMAN (SOMEWHERE SOMEWHEN)

I am drifting out to sea I am back aboard the boat all by myself and no light to be seen.
I know where I've been coming from but I don't know where I will go You're outta here

Further on just straight ahead and noone knows the way.
Further on just straight ahead.
Again it did not work out well
And everybody tells me the same about me.

Refrain:
Somewhere somewhere I will find somebody
It won't be you and me
Somewhere somewhere I will find somebody
It just won't be you and me

further out to the sea where I've never been.
there must be so much, that I wanna see, that I wanna feel too further out to the open sea, there is wind and then there is me
There must be someone I was ment to find, made for me

Well, I can understand I have no masterplan at hand,
I don't know where it's gonna end or it will lead me to ..
